The Web Cache Communication Protocol (WCCP) is a content-routing protocol that can facilitate the redirection of traffic flows in real time. Your organization has deployed WCCP to redirect web traffic that traverses their Cisco Adaptive Security Appliances (ASAs) to their Cisco Web Security Appliances (WSAs).

The simulator will provide access to the graphical user interfaces of one Cisco ASA and one Cisco WSA that are participating in a WCCP service. Not all aspects of the GUIs are implemented in the simulator. The options that have been implemented are sufficient to determine the best answer to each of the questions that are presented.

Your task is to examine the details available in the simulated graphical user interfaces and select the best answer.

Between the Cisco ASA configuration and the Cisco WSA configuration, what is true with respect to redirected ports?

- A. Both are configured for both port 80 and 443.
- B. There is a configuration mismatch on redirected ports.
- C. Both are configured for ports 80, 443 and 3128.
- D. Both are configured for port 80 only.
- E. Both are configured for port 443 only.

NEW QUESTION: 3

The MOST likely explanation for the use of applets in an Internet application is that:

- A. it is sent over the network from the server.
- B. they improve the performance of the web server and network.
- C. the server does not run the program and the output is not sent over the network.
- D. it is a JAVA program downloaded through the web browser and executed by the web server of the client machine.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

An applet is a JAVA program that is sent over the network from the web server, through a web browser and to the client machine; the code is then run on the machine. Since the server does not run the program and the output is not sent over the network, the performance on the web server and network-over which the server and client are connected-dramatically improves through the use of applets. Performance improvement is more important than the reasons offered in choices A and B Since JAVA virtual machine (JVM) is embedded in most web browsers, the applet download through the web browser runs on the client machine from the web browser, not from the web server, making choice D incorrect.
